already felt the call for their products in markets overseas.

The first half of 1921 is to be the habitation builder's heyday, both on price and supply of building commodities. He will constitute practically the only market for the building material manufacturer who is at present hungry for business. Manufacturers will not be so desirous for small quantity business six months from now, if present economic tendencies run true.

F. J. Guilfoyle & Co. leased office space in the building at 487 Broadway to the Bon-Ton Company, S and M. Muslin Underwear Company, Henry Bernstein & Co., Friedman Thread Company, J. Méndel, United Constructive Accountants, nomic tendencies run true.

Their command of prices and delivery conditions will not be of long duration after the turn of the half year. A single department of the forty-two basic items in the materials market proves the trend of events.

Cement Shipments on the Gain.

Shipments of cement from Zones 1 and 2 were 30 per cent. greater in February than in January. They exceed the total movement of cement in 1920 by 30,000 barrels a day. The three largest combarrels a day. The three largest com-panies having the greatest manufactur-ing resources at this date have less than 1,200,000 barrels of marketable cement on hand. Last autumn the Dow Service predicted that there would be a shortage of 2,000,000 barrels in this district by March 31, 1921. The chances are that this statement will be confirmed at the present rate of inquiry and order book-ing.

The entire district of Zone 1, which is the main source of supply for this market, has 500,000 barrels of cement less than it had at this time last year, with the building construction season not yet started and with road improvement work a greater factor in demand than ever before.

The year 1931 cannot be inactive to RESORTS.

The year 1921 cannot be inactive in the construction industry when such con-ditions of potential demand obtain sgafnst such conditions of actual sup-ply. No account is taken of export posdes, nor is account taken of any railroad equipment or material purching this spring. Industrial development also omitted from the calculation.
